21st Sunday in Ordinary Time

Year - B –24th & 25th August

LITURGY OF THE WORD

Entrance Antiphon

Turn your ear, O Lord, and answer me; save the servant who trusts in you, my God. Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I cry to you all the day long.

FIRST READING

A reading from the book of Joshua (24:1-2, 15-18)

(We will serve the Lord God, because he is our God).

Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel together at Shechem; then he called the elders, leaders, judges and scribes of Israel, and they presented themselves before God. Then Joshua said to all the people: 'If you will not serve the Lord, choose today whom you wish to serve, whether the gods that your ancestors served beyond the River, or the gods of the Amorites in whose land you are now living. As for me and my House, we will serve the Lord.'

The people answered, 'We have no intention of deserting the Lord our God who brought us and our ancestors out of the land of Egypt, the house of slavery, who worked those great wonders before our eyes and preserved us all along the way we travelled and among all the peoples through whom we journeyed. We too will serve the Lord, for he is our God.'

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

(Ps 33)

- All: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.
- Reader: I will bless the Lord at all times, his praise always on my lips; in the Lord my soul shall make its boast. The humble shall hear and be glad.

All: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

Reader: The Lord turns his face against the wicked to destroy their remembrance from the earth. The Lord turns his eyes to the just and his ears to their appeal.

All: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

- Reader: They call and the Lord hears and rescues them in all their distress. The Lord is close to the broken-hearted; those whose spirit is crushed he will save.
- All: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.
- Reader: Many are the trials of the just man but from them all the Lord will rescue him. He will keep guard over all his bones, not one of his bones shall be broken.

All: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

Reader: Evil brings death to the wicked; those who hate the good are doomed. The Lord ransoms the souls of his servants. Those who hide in him shall not be condemned.

All: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

The Word of the Lord.

SECOND READING

A reading from the letter of Paul to the Ephesians (5:21-32) (This is the great mystery, it applies to Christ and the Church).

Give way to one another in obedience to Christ. Wives should regard their husbands as they regard the Lord, since as Christ is head of the Church and saves the whole body, so is a husband the head of his wife; and as the Church submits to Christ, so should wives to their husbands, in everything. Husbands should love their wives just as Christ loves the Church and sacrificed himself for her to make her holy. He made her clean by washing her in water with a form of words, so that when he took her to himself she would be glorious, with no speck or wrinkle or anything like that, but holy and faultless. In the same way, husbands must love their wives as they love their own bodies; for a man to love his wife is for him to love himself. A man never hates his own body, but he feeds it and looks after it; and that is the way Christ treats the Church, because it is his body - and we are its living parts. For this reason, a man must leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two will become one body. This mystery has many implications; but I am saying it applies to Christ and the Church.

The Word of the Lord.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, Alleluia!

Your words, Lord, are spirit and life: you have the words of everlasting life.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL:

John (6:60-69)

(My flesh is real food and my blood is real drink).

WEEKEND MASS SCHEDULE

Social Justice Sunday - 25 August 2024

We are invited to "reflect on what we, as Christians, are called to do in a world wracked by war and violence. Truth is often the first casualty in war. The Gospel calls us to embrace the fundamental truth that every person on earth has a God-given dignity which cannot be taken away or ignored. From this truth flows the realisation that there is no 'us' or 'them'. Everyone on earth, whatever our race or creed or status, is a sister, a brother. We are all children of God. Keeping this truth before us is the key to overcoming violence and conflict. Armed not with guns and missiles, but with love for our sisters and brothers, we are invited to speak of peace and to take action to promote peace in a violent world. On this Social Justice Sunday, let us re-commit ourselves to cultivating a culture of peace by following Jesus who is the way, the truth and the life and the Prince of Peace."

REFLECTION:

Freedom to choose

In recent years we have seen the appearance of a large number of cults. One of the most disturbing things about them is the hold they get on those who join them. The leaders are invariably people who have a lust to control other people. And the members are often insecure and fragile people, easy prey for such leaders.

There is a big difference between Christ's approach and that of the false messiahs. In the cults we have the personal glorification of the leader. Christ never sought glory for himself. He referred everything to his heavenly Father, whose will he came to do. He made himself the servant of all. The false messiahs usually promise their followers an earthly paradise in some shape or form. It becomes a form of inducement. Christ made no such promise to his followers. In fact, quite the contrary. He told them that they would suffer persecution if they followed him. True, he did promise eternal life-but only to those prepared to do, not his will, but the will of the Father.

When the cult leaders see that the ship is sinking, they usually try to ensure that the crew goes down with it. Christ, the Good Shepherd, laid down his life to save the lives of his sheep.

Through a combination of inducements and indoctrination, recruits to the cults become little better than flies caught in a spider's web. Their freedom is almost completely taken away. But freedom is the greatest thing we have. The only thing that has moral value and that helps us to grow is what is done freely. Jesus forced no one to follow him. We have a splendid example of this in today's Gospel.

The cross was already beginning to cast its shadow over him. His disciples were faced with a decision-to stay with him or to leave him. Some stayed with him as long as his career was on the way up, but at the first shadow of the cross they abandoned him. Others had come to him to get something from him; when it came to suffering for him, and giving to others, they quit. Incredibly, even one of his twelve had already opted out, having made up his mind to betray him.

But a remnant stayed with Jesus. Peter spoke up for these. His decision to stay was based first of all on a personal loyalty to Jesus. Then to his teaching. Even though there are many things he didn't understand, he knew that Jesus had the words of eternal life.

If we follow Christ we will always be free. We are, not when we do whatever we please, but when we do what is right we are like an instrument that is being played as it was meant to be played.
